While I am looking for help to communicate, I have gone back to some church websites I have followed, and the websites of BMA Churches John Meriweather sent me. I am hoping this transition process helps us create a page showing who we are better than what we have. It seems that when Bro Gunter came, our website changed. I happened to have saved one page from the previous which I believe was a website the Wade's set up for Bro Beasley. I do remember us, as a church, meeting to discuss the doctrinal statement and the Principles of Cooperation after we moved to our current building as Rolling Hills. I'm hoping you will help me create a page sharing who we are. Fast forward to the last couple of years, as far as communications, and transparency, LIFEWORD, BMA GLOBAL, and BMA of AMERICA websites have placed these documents on their websites, and they make their reports by video and in writing. The Sr Pastor Transition Bro Larry Barker sent us shares about making sure your new Pastor understands our character, how we differ from any other Baptist, and believe me, when I say, that is not something you want to treat lightly. The Baptist Publishing House has free books about our doctrine. We had a Sunday School quarterly when E Harold Henderson wrote them (I found them all in digital form on Amazon).

Hopefully this shortcut will help the Pulpit committee find someone who is a BMA Pastor to lead us forward.

I would also like us to consider working towards a "Call to PRAY FRESH ENCOUNTER WEEKEND" for the 5th Sunday of August and make this a quarterly festival.
